

Middle Manager Competency Development Program

(Are you ready to become a Professional Manager?)

Many managers know how to do their work, but they never know in what ways they can improve themselves to become more competent and effective. Through this specially designed development program you would understand what management competencies you need to acquire to effectively fulfill job requirements, and how you can develop your knowledge, skills and supporting attitudes through work-related assignments and off-the-job learning.

You would also enhance your professionalism through role modeling the good practices of a competent manager benchmarking the well-researched world-class standards.

Your Benefits:

- ✓ Readily and accurately identify your behaviours that are associated with and contributing to managerial competence, and differentiate yourself from the ineffective manager group;
- ✓ Analyse, recommend what you need to learn and do to become a competent manager, and support you as you go.
